

ODDITIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

THE VANISHING SLOTS

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—slot machines were mightily scarce in Quincy and Adams county yesterday. Taverns which had kept the one-armed bandits around had nary a one yesterday. The machines simply vanished overnight but neither city nor county officials claimed responsibility for their disappearance. Federal tax records list 509 machines in the county.

Some authorities surmised, however, that a meeting of the newly-organized board of police and fire commissioners with State's Attorney John Reardon and Mayor George Meyer might have had something to do with the riddance. Sheriff Otis Woodruff said he believed the machines will stay out of the taverns and Meyer said he had instructed police to see to it that they do.

"MIND WAVES" HOAX

New York, Sept. 30—(AP)—Mysterious "mind waves" and international double-talk touched off a useless ocean search yesterday for two Italian fliers missing over the Atlantic since Sept. 16. Planes and ships joined in a renewed hunt after flash of word indicating the aviators were alive and afloat near the Bahamas Islands.

The rescue operations were called off later in the day when it developed that a "message" supposed to have been sent by the fliers was received by a doctor in Rome via telephatic currents—not by radio.

Garbled version of the doctor's report gave momentary hope that the two Italians—John M. Brondello and Camillo Barigello—might still be alive.

SLEEP INTERRUPTED

Eftingham, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—An automobile crashed through the side of a home and injured a couple in their bed early today, city police reported.

City policeman C. T. Lamb said the car went onto the bed and came to a halt over Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tate, 58 and 56. They were treated for head injuries, cuts and bruises at an emergency center, set up after the April Eftingham hospital fire disaster.

Officer Lamb said Lyman Burth, 27, and Harold Empsrott, 27, both of Willow Hill, were held in city jail without charge pending questioning. Lamb said the men were in the car which left route 33 about 6 a. m. The side of the house was wrecked.

ANTI-FREEZE IS RIGHT !!!

Seneca, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—Flames, accompanied by explosions, today destroyed an anti-freeze manufacturing plant, 50,000 gallons of alcohol, and other equipment.

Firemen from five towns fought the flames 10 hours before bringing them under control. They sprayed constant streams of water on 10 huge 25,000 gallon tanks of alcohol to prevent them from bursting into flames.

Firemen estimated the loss at $150,000. The two-story concrete block plant destroyed was that of the Prairie State Oil Company, manufacturers of automobile anti-freeze solution, with headquarters at Danville. Four trailer trucks, two box cars and loading equipment also were destroyed.

No injuries were reported. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

More than 50 firemen from nearby Morris, Frand Lodge, Marseilles, and Ottawa were called to the scene.

DROP IN THE BUCKET?

New York, Sept. 30—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Louise Patenotre, 80, former principal owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer, pleaded guilty today to income tax evasion charges and received a suspended sentence upon paying a $2,000,000 liability.

ARMY ON THE RUN

Othello, Wash., Sept. 30—(AP)—Enraged townfolk, many of them armed with pitchforks and pick handles, chased four carloads of Moses Lake air force base soldiers out of town last night.

Mayor Clyde Matthews estimated the number of air force enlisted men at 18 to 25, and said about an equal number of townfolk also figured in the affray.

The fight apparently was an outgrowth of an incident here a week ago when two air force men were chased out of town after creating a disturbance.

Charge Professor Gave Russia A-Bomb Secrets

'Scientist X' Identified as Minnesota Man

Met with Commies At Coast Meetings

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—The house un-American activities committee today named Joseph W. Weinberg, University of Minnesota professor, as the "scientist X" accused of slipping wartime atomic secrets to a Communist spy.

The committee recommended in a report that the justice department prosecute Weinberg on charges he lied under oath in 1948 in denying:

1. Communist party membership and attending Young Communist League meetings.
2. Knowing Communist leader Steve Nelson, 3. Knowing Nelson's secretary, Bernadette Doyle.

Nelson, the committee says, "was engaged in securing information regarding the development of the atomic bomb from Scientist X."

That was back in 1943, the committee adds, when Weinberg was employed at the radiation laboratory at the University of California. The laboratory helped perfect the A-bomb.

Identity Was Known
The story of the Nelson-Scientist X case is an old one the committee first unfolded a year ago. But while the identity of scientist X was widely known around Washington, the committee waited until today to put the finger on him by name.

The committee quoted what it said was part of a report from intelligence agents—it didn't identify the A-bomb.

Coal Strike Violence Is On Increase

By The Associated Press

Nearly 15,000 non-union miners stolidly dug coal today in defiance of United Mine worker pickets as tempers flared in the 12-day-old coal strike.

Dynamiting, rifle-fire, and rock-throwing became more common in the nation's coal fields. Prospects of an early settlement of the UMA's "no pension no work" dispute grew more remote.

At White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where UMW chief John L. Lewis has been holding sporadic contract talks with northern and western operators, both sides freely admitted yesterday they are getting nowhere.

The only note of cheer to be gleaned from an otherwise black as coal picture came from Hazleton, Pa., in eastern Pennsylvania. There the Anthracite Tri-District News, a UMW publication, reported that an end of the sympathy walkout of 80,000 hard coal miners is in sight. Union leaders, however, said they didn't know anything about it.

The publication declared it had

Robert Fox in Not Guilty Plea as a Drunken Driver

Three more arraignments were held today on the 18 indictments returned Sept. 20 by the Lee county grand jury.

Robert Fox, 26, pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and his case was continued for three weeks. The arraignment was held in Judge George C. Dixon's private study.

Fox was riding in the car that took the lives of three Harmon residents Aug. 13.

The arraignment was held in the study because the Circuit courtroom is being used in the Smith-Lilly trial.

Catholic Church Frowns on 'Test Tube' Baby Idea

Castel Gandolfo, Sept. 30—(AP)—The Roman Catholic church has put the stigma of immorality on test tube babies unless the man and woman involved are married.

Pope Pius XII last night told delegates to the fourth International Congress of Catholic doctors that in the eyes of the church artificial insemination is permissible only when necessary to "fulfill the work of nature"—the fertilization of a wife by her husband.

Say Governor Stevenson and Wife to Part

STEVENSONS SEPARATED
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today he and his wife have separated and that he will not contest a divorce.

In a statement issued by his office here, the governor said: "I am deeply distressed that due to the incompatibility of our lives Mrs. Stevenson feels a separation is necessary. Although I do not believe in divorce, I will not contest it. We have separated with the highest mutual regard."

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—The Chicago Tribune says today that Governor and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson have begun action toward divorce grounds of incompatibility.

The newspaper quotes the governor as saying last night in Springfield: "On that I have nothing to say at all now. I may have something to say early next week, but nothing right now."

The conversations toward divorce were begun two months ago, the paper says. It adds that the only matters still remaining to be decided are details of property settlement and where court action is to be filed.

Most recent discussions by attorneys, The Tribune says, concern a proposal that suit be filed

U.S. Traffic Deaths 19,290 in 8 Months

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first eight months of 1949 totaled 19,290, the national safety council said today.

The total, including 2,750 in August, was two per cent under the toll for the first eight months of 1948. The August toll was 100 below the July total and eight per cent below August, 1948.

Vertus Yonk, of Sheffield, Donald Miller and Kenneth Galloway, previously had pleaded not guilty. Miller previously pleaded guilty.

Miller, 21, of 1301 Third avenue and Galloway, 25, of Sterling, are being held in the county jail. Both are represented by Robert Besse, of Sterling.

Charles Limes pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary. An escapee from the Dixon state hospital, where he was committed voluntarily as an epileptic, Limes' case continued subject to notice. Although he has pleaded guilty, Limes will have a hearing in aggravation and mitigation, which will consider any evidence tending to increase or decrease punishment. Burglary carries a one-to-life sentence.

Jurors a Bit Reluctant to Bring Verdict

Her Attorney Says Appeal To Be Made

San Francisco, Sept. 30—(AP)—Stony faced, Iva Toguri D'Aquino heard herself convicted of treason last night—for telling American troops their ships had been sunk in Leyte gulf and they were "orphans of the Pacific."

A somewhat reluctant federal court jury of six men and six women brought in the verdict after four days' deliberation. A surprised "Oh!", of apparent disappointment, swept the courtroom.

Iva—Los Angeles-born and educated—remained as stoic as she had during the 12-week trial. Head bowed, she said nothing. No tears. Later she told her attorneys "I can't understand it." An appeal is planned.

Death Not Asked

October 6 was set for sentencing. The minimum sentence would be five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine; the maximum—death. But the government did not ask the death penalty.

Foreman John Mann said the jurors would have liked to acquit the 33-year-old woman known to GI's as Tokyo Rose, but "we were the only thing we thought possible under the judge's instructions."

She was convicted on only one of the eight counts in the indictment. That one related to her broadcast from Radio Tokyo in October, 1944, about the Leyte gulf battle. She was found not guilty in seven counts.

While Chief Prosecutor Tom DeWolfe termed the verdict "a just one for the United States," Defense Attorney Wayne Collins called it "absolutely erroneous—unsupportable by any credible testimony."

Collins said he would file a

Injun Fete Parade Drew Huge Crowds

For pictures of some of the floats in Thursday's Injun Summer parade please see page 11.

The axiom, "Dixon did, Dixon does and Dixon will," was inscribed in the three-day Injun Summer Celebration which closed last night after the city entertained the largest gathering in its history. An estimated crowd of between 15,000 and 20,000 people, who witnessed the float and horse parade in the afternoon and the Midway and fireworks display in the evening. Cool but clear weather prevailed on the closing day of the celebration.

Thanks, Says Matson
Carl Matson of the Chamber of Commerce was enthusiastic in his praise for every committee which served and extended his thanks not only to those but those who cooperated in making the event the success which it proved to be.

Matson also conveyed his appreciation to the members of the police and fire departments who joined forces in handling the crowd of thousands of spectators who lined every foot of the line of march of the mammoth parade yesterday afternoon. The floats entered in this three-mile long parade represented the expenditure of thousands of dollars worth of materials.

The judges voted the Illinois Northern Utilities Co float the most beautiful and it was awarded the $50 cash prize which was donated by the Tavern Keepers Association of Dixon. Second prize went to the Boyd Casket Co. float, third to the Coss dairy and fourth to the Lawton Bros. dairy entry. Cash prizes for the second, third and fourth floats were awarded by the executive committee of the celebration.

With the largest crowd and the longest and best parade ever held in Dixon, the cooperation of many

RAPIST IN DIXON TODAY—Thomas Hoggatt, 29, Lanark rapist who was sentenced to 123 years in prison Tuesday by Judge George C. Dixon was in Dixon this morning on his way to confinement. This picture of Hoggatt was taken by Mrs. Carl Buchner of The Telegraph. When asked by Mrs. Buchner if he would pose for a picture Hoggatt said: "Oh, I suppose so. It will be a long time before you have another chance to take one." (The guy wasn't kiddin'.)

Rapist Hoggatt Here Shows No Remorse for His Crimes

Thomas Hoggatt, 29, who was convicted and sentenced to 123 years in prison for raping a nine-year-old girl stopped temporarily in back of the court house today on his way to Joliet.

Hoggatt showed no remorse, no emotion whatsoever. He joked with the photographer, even posed for a picture, saying, "I'll be a long time before I have my picture taken again."

Extremely alert, he spelled rapidly the name of the Mt. Carroll sheriff taking him down what may prove to be a last mile. The deputies assigned to Hoggatt couldn't spell Sheriff Henry Truninger's name even though they worked with him.

Besides the sheriff of Carroll county Hoggatt was accompanied by Henry Miller, chief deputy, and Deputies Lloyd Williams, of Savanna and Robert Sievert, of Mt. Carroll.

Williams and Sievert stood with Hoggatt alongside the car while Truninger and Miller took commitment papers into the courthouse for Judge George C. Dixon's signature. Judge Dixon, who passed the sentence on Hoggatt, said that by the time the rapist is eligible for parole, "all thoughts of romance should have left the defendant's mind."

After a drink of water in the courthouse, Hoggatt walked jauntily off with his guards.

FORFEITS BOND

Mrs. Helen Kallas of Dixon forfeited a bond of five dollars posted in the Clinton, Iowa, police court yesterday, when charged with running a school sign.

Humphrey Bogart 'Panda Incident' Dismissed Today

New York, Sept. 30—(AP)—Humphrey Bogart, the movie tough guy, was cleared today of bruising a pretty model because she tried to take his panda doll away from him.

Magistrate John R. Starkey dismissed an assault complaint brought by Brunette Robin Roberts, 23, thus ringing down the curtain on the pre-dawn battle of El Morocco.

Starkey said there wasn't enough evidence to warrant a formal charge being placed against Bogart.

Her story was that Bogart shoved her, causing her to fall down and bruise herself on the hip and elsewhere, when she playfully borrowed a 20-pound panda that Bogart had brought to the midtown night club.

Hit by Auto, Condition of Girl Is Fair

The condition of Patricia Jean Lee, 5, was called "fair" today by KSB hospital where she was taken after being hit by a car last night on First street, near Galena avenue.

Patricia, 522 Dixon avenue, was hit as she was crossing the street by a car driven by Edward G. Maves, 717 Dixon avenue.

The accident occurred shortly after Dixon's Injun Summer parade ended. The nature of her injuries has not been determined, but according to the police, she suffered bumps and bruises and complained about her stomach.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lee.

Nabbed Here, Gould in Not Guilty Plea

Charles W. Gould of Chicago, arrested in Dixon last June with about 20 pistols and shotguns in his car, pleaded not guilty in district court in Clinton, Iowa, Wednesday when arraigned on a charge of grand larceny involving a theft at the Rod Fitch sporting goods store. Judge Walter Newport set a new bond at $5,000 and no date was set for the trial. Gould was represented by a Chicago attorney. Gould also faces charges in Whiteside county, in connection with a dress shop theft in Sterling.

Henry Warner to Talk at Mendota

Attorney Henry C. Warner of Dixon will deliver the dedication address Sunday afternoon at Mendota, where the cornerstone for the new $400,000 hospital will be laid. Civic, patriotic and fraternal groups and citizens of Mendota have subscribed to construct the new and modern community hospital in that city.

LaMoille Farmer Wife Wins $20,000 in 'Schmoo' Contest

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—A young Bureau county Illinois farm wife who came expecting to get a $10 or $20 prize, got $20,000 in cash today on a radio program.

Mrs. Charlotte Guthrie, 30, the winner, took it with a sigh of emotion and said: "It's going to come in mighty handy."

She and her husband, Everett, raise corn, oats and stock on 160 acres they rent near LaMoille. Two days a week she works at a Mendota Ill. grocery.

She was the first prize winner in Proctor & Gamble's national "name the schmoo" contest. She received her check on Tommy Bartlett's "Welcome Travelers" radio show, broadcast by NBC.

She was invited to come to Chicago to receive "at least a $10 prize. When she protested, saying there was no one else to do the farm chores, she was assured she

Negotiations Continue But Seem Hopeless

Some Unions Are Already Off Job

LATEST BULLETIN
Pittsburgh, Sept. 30—(AP)—A government mediator trying to stave off a nationwide steel strike at midnight said today "there is no basic change in the positions" of big steel and the CIO.

William N. Margolis, assistant director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, made the comment to reporters said he had spent more than three hours talking with both sides.

Even as the talks were going on, the gigantic steel industry was preparing for the strike.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30—(AP)—The nation's CIO steelworkers are set to strike at midnight tonight for company-paid pensions and insurance. They say they'll settle for nothing less.

Eleventh-hour negotiations are deadlocked—but continuing. U.S. mediators summoned union and management in a last-minute, all-out effort to avert the crippling walkout of 500,000 steelworkers.

Already thousands of Philip Murray's steelworkers have jumped the gun in wildcat strikes. Thousands more were forced into idleness as steel mills banked furnaces, cutting production to a

Smith-Lilly Case Has Eight Jurors Selected to Date

A total of eight jurors have been sworn in for the Smith-Lilly trial. Smith and Lilly, both Negroes, are charged with robbing and beating Porter C. Funderburgh Nov. 1948.

In the only deviation from the challenging of jurors, State's Attorney Morey C. Pires called attention to an error appearing in yesterday's account of the Smith-Lilly trial. The story said one of the charges against Smith and Lilly carried a maximum penalty of death. The state's attorney pointed out that none of the charges—armed robbery, burglary, and larceny—carries a death penalty.

At press time, Charles A. Kinney, attorney for Smith and Lilly, had used 31 peremptory challenges, excusing that many jurors from service. Pires had used 10. Both had used two challenges for cause.

Dorothy Austin of Franklin Grove Is Awarded a Divorce

Dorothy Austin, of Franklin Grove was awarded a divorce today in Judge George C. Dixon's Circuit court from her husband, Clyde Austin.

Through her attorney, Morey C. Pires and in her original complaint Mrs. Austin charged her husband with "habitual drunkenness."

The Austins were married in DuQuoin, Nov. 1936 and had three children. Her complaint was represented by Robert L. Blaser. The court case was heard in the afternoon.

Sterling Man Hurt As Jeep Leaves Road

Police said a 67 of Rte. 4, Sterling, was hurt in a collision with a car that left the road yesterday when his jeep ran into a ditch north of Wood Cat school in Palmyra township.

Sterling is in KSB hospital, where physicians said he cannot be moved. The full extent of his injuries will not be determined until X-rays are taken.

Joyce and Woodyatt Arrested on Drunken Driving Charges Here

Joseph Joyce, 77½, Galena avenue, and Jack Woodyatt, 213 Willett RD 1, were arrested and charged with drunken driving yesterday.

Both were arrested on Peoria avenue by Officers Fred Sanford and Robert E. McCoy.

Moscow's Break With Tito Complete; Needs West's Aid

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's abrupt cancellation of her treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia, thereby setting a fiery example which her satellites may be expected to follow, further tightens the banishment of Marshal Tito from the Bolshevik fold.

The Yugoslav dictator now is decidedly on his own. Thus far the only kindly word Tito has received from his old comrades is contained in an article published by "The Literary Gazette" in Moscow. The Gazette says history soon is going to offer him a choice—"either rat poison, like Hitler, or a soaped rope, like Mussolini." The article adds that "there is good reason for the Belgrade dwarf to go crazy."

Say Tito Hostile
Moscow accuses Tito of lining up with "foreign imperialist circles." Specifically Russia charges that the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister Lázló Rajk, sentenced to death last Saturday, disclosed that Yugoslavia has been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet Union.

Yugoslavia also has friendship and mutual aid pacts with Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania. In the natural course of events all these neighbors also will cancel their treaties.

The significance of all this lies in the real reason for the break between Russia and Yugoslavia which came into the open in a big way in June, 1948. That was when the Moscow dominated cominform expelled the Balkan state from membership.

international Communism under which every country would take its orders from Moscow.

This means Tito has inaugurated a new brand of Communism for his state.

Different Concepts
As this column previously has pointed out, there is small similarity between the relatively beneficent Communism, which was born generations ago, and the Bolshevik brand which insists on internationalism under Moscow's control. The cold war between the Russian bloc and the democracies revolves about this difference. International Communism just can't mix with any otherism which insists on the retention of national sovereignty.

However, it is still too early to declare that Tito's brand of Communism can't live in amity with other nationalisms. His requests for material aid from the western world in his emergency seem to indicate that he wants to play ball. Whether he has all his cards on the table remains to be seen.

Crash of Big Plane Starts Forest Fire

Olympia, Wash., Sept. 30—(AP)—A C-82 flying boxcar from McChord air force base crashed and burned last night, starting a forest fire.

Three men were reported manning the big twin engine ship. No bodies were found in or near the wreckage.

The crash occurred in a heavily forested area five miles northwest of McChord, Wash., between here and Grays Harbor.

It requires about 3 hours of man labor to produce 100 pounds of pork in central Illinois.

Here's How the Ford Plan For Pensions Will Operate

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—Should a company have to bear the full cost of the pension it gives its workers without any contribution from them?

Yes, say the CIO auto workers and steelworkers. The Ford Motor Company and the auto workers yesterday agreed on a pension plan and avoided a strike.

But the big steel companies are sticking to their position that the workers should contribute to part of the pension a company gives. Because of that disagreement the threat of a steel strike is at hand.

Yet, under the Ford plan the workers actually would be contributing toward part of the total pension they'd receive. This is why:

Retire At Age 65

The Ford company agrees to see to it that a worker who retires at 65 after 30 years' service will receive a pension of $100 a month.

But—Ford isn't going to give him the whole $100. Ford agrees to give him the difference between $100 and whatever social security pension the retired worker gets. (That social security pension from the government is called old-age insurance and is part of the government's social security program.)

For example: Ford-worker Jones will retire. From social security, he'll get a pension of $25 a month. Ford will add $75 to that to bring his total pension to $100. Or—

Smith is retiring with a social security pension of $40 a month—the most any retiring worker can get from social security now is $44.80—and Ford will give him $60 to bring his total pension to $100.

But—the worker has had to contribute toward that part of the pension which he receives from the government. The Ford company has had to contribute to it, too.

Hudson sales zooming coast to coast and we're joining in with the

BEST DEALS IN OUR HISTORY

It just had to happen! When America is presented with a car—the New Hudson—that is obviously years ahead in styling and performance, there's action everywhere!

And now, from Maine to the western Rockies and beyond, Hudson ranks first, second, third or fourth in sales among cars in all price classes in markets of all sizes!

HUDSON A LEADER IN RESALE VALUE!
National Automobile Dealers Association Official Used Car Guide books show "step-down" designed Hudsons commanding top prices in the nation's used car markets!

WHAT a picture! Hudson sales for the first seven months this year over 30 per cent ahead of last year!

Already more than 114,000 people have switched from cars of other makes to own a "step-down" designed New Hudson!

So why shouldn't we join in this surge of success with the best deals in our history?

You're invited to enjoy a Revelation Ride in the only car that brings you the most of the four great things people want most—beauty, roominess, road-worthiness, and all-round performance. Yes, it's America's 4-Most Car!

For road-worthiness, as an example, Hudson's "step-down" design provides the lowest center of gravity in any stock car—yet there's full road clearance! Result: the safest, steadiest, hug-the-road ride ever known!

Come in, real soon; bring your car along. See how much it will bring right now, traded in on a years-ahead New Hudson!

Skid Row Movie To Be Featured Here Sunday

LOIE HYLAR, former Assistant Superintendent of Pacific Garden Mission, as he appears in the role of an alcoholic in the Mission's new sound and color film, "Out of the Night."

Authentic scenes from Chicago's notorious Skid Row are featured in "Out of the Night," new sound and color film to be shown Sunday night at the West Side church. The movie will get underway at 7:30 o'clock.

The 30-minute picture, which is sponsored by Pacific Garden mission Chicago uses a fast-moving documentary technique to show the mission's work among the outcasts of "Skid Row."

In order to obtain realistic shots the producers who filmed "Out of the Night" used a concealed camera for some sequences. Henry Ushijima, Caldecott director, also revealed that the plot is based on actual case histories from the mission files.

According to Harry G. Saulnier, superintendent of the historic rescue center, during the last year the mission fed 115,640 and housed 29,639 men. In addition, it operates a servicemen's center which has entertained more than 400,000 G. I. s.

the Sunday school during the past year. The Junior department will launch a new class as the great interest in this department has caused a very rapid growth.

A quartet of teen-agers will climax the Sunday morning Rally program.

Charge Two Boys with Burning Rural School

Champaign Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—Two high school boys are held in jail here under $5,000 bond on charges of arson.

Police said the youths Mont Cessa and John Vairon of nearby Hope, had admitted that they set fire last Monday to a rural school building and a haystack. Damage to the building was estimated at $1,000.

The boys, seniors at Armstrong high school, will be given a hearing on the charge Monday.

Sold for $70 the Hungarian thoroughbred Rabale looked too light to put to a cart and was turned over to a friend to train. The horse won the 1929 running of the Hungarian National Derby.

We live up to your Buick's promise!

FOR sure, at this time of year you want a full measure of real driving sport from your Buick—an eager answer to your toe on the gas treadle, softly obedient brakes, a willing wheel that steers for you without effort. Let's just say—you want the royal ride that only a Buick can give you!

All this you'll get and more, if your Buick gets the care it deserves. Not just a peek here, a poke there—but real Buick care! Our kind of care!

You don't pay any more for Buick-experienced workmanship and know-how, or for our Buick-trained skills, or for the fact that every part, every adjustment and operation is just what the factory has specified.

Yet there's a thrilling difference in the way your Buick behaves under our careful care. Bring it to us next time you want lubrication, or an adjustment, or a thoroughgoing checkup—and give yourself a mighty pleasant surprise!

You get 2-for-1 with Lubricare

One of our biggest bargain-offers is Lubricare—complete, elaborately thorough lubrication plus a stem-to-stern checkup of your Buick and its general health. Pay us just for the lubricants it needs; the diagnosis is a service we're glad to give! How about driving in this week?

Buick care keeps Buicks best

Paul Robeson Will Talk at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Sept. 30—(AP)—Police are on the alert today as Paul Robeson arrives for a singing—and speaking—engagement.

The left-wing negro singer is scheduled to speak tonight at Wrigley field, home of the Coast league Los Angeles Angels in the heart of this city's Harlem.

The occasion is the 70th anniversary celebration of the California Eagle, negro newspaper. Robeson is honor guest.

Seven Billion Dollar Aid Bill Goes to President

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—Congress sent to President Truman today the second of two bills designed to pump $7,124,000,000 into foreign recovery and military aid.

The president's signature was the only thing needed to start the dollars working in the giant effort to defeat Russia in the cold war.

The senate completed action last night on a $5,809,990,000 program to bolster the economies of western Europe and other friendly nations.

No Opposition
The big money bill was approved without a word of opposition. A short time earlier the house had passed the bill with critics taking only a brief final slap at the program.

Two days ago congress authorized a $1,314,010,000 arms bill. The measure provides enough cash to start shipments of $450,000,000 worth of arms overseas. The rest of the money must be provided later by appropriation.

Government officials said yesterday the first arms cargoes will begin moving to Atlantic pact countries by mid-November. American military experts are due to go overseas in about two weeks to pave the way for these shipments.

Most of the recovery dollars will pour into western Europe. The Marshall Plan nations will receive $3,628,380,000 in cash and have another $150,000,000 available in loans during the present fiscal year which ends next June 30.

What Bill Provides
The bill also contains: $912,500,000 for army occupation costs in Germany, Austria, Japan and the Ryukyu Islands. $45,000,000 for Turkey and Greece. $1,074,000,000 to cover Economic Cooperation Administration costs during the last three months of the 1949 fiscal year which ended June 30. $110,000 for expenses of a congressional watchdog committee staff to check on foreign aid spending.

IC Switchman Awarded $35,000 for Loss of Foot

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—A former Illinois Central switchman has been awarded $35,000 damages for the loss of a foot suffered while working in the railroad's Rantoul, Ill., yards in March, 1947.

The switchman, Mark Howell,

39, of Champaign, had sued the railroad for $100,000.

The award was made yesterday by a circuit court jury.

Howell is now operating the postoffice at the University of Illinois.

October and November are the months for a fall application of nitrogen fertilizer on bearing apple trees, suggest University of Illinois horticulturists.

Hens will lay about 20 to 25 percent fewer eggs during their second year than they did during their first year.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.—Sir Philip Sidney.

Reduce Government or Be Reduced!

When will the American manufacturers, especially, and all other American groups now being hurt or liquidated by our government join in a people's effort to reduce big and corrupt government itself? How much longer will so-called "American free enterprise" be dependent for its very life on the orders, licenses, consents, the financing, the pricing or even the whims and political preferences of a single human being in a bureau in Washington? The bureaucrat may be in the state department at home, in the army of occupation abroad, or in one of a hundred other government offices.

How can the American manufacturer be expected to buy wool or aluminum, for example, and pile up stocks of finished merchandise in the summertime for winter trade? Should he increase the wages if he knows that by a stroke of a pen, one individual in Washington, or Tokio, may absolutely destroy the markets for his products? For example, the whole industry of knitted gloves and mittens, from New York to Wisconsin, is threatened and absolutely dependent upon what some government officials may do to flood our markets with Japanese gloves and mittens, made by workers paid 8c to 14c an hour. The average wage of American labor in this industry is about $1.00 an hour, or ten times greater than that of the Japanese.

A common procedure of our socialist government in Washington is to have the lawyer for the government prosecute an industry like the Aluminum Company and discredit it by the smear process. This enables the R. F. C., our government lending institution, to make a contract with Henry J. Kaiser and the Reynolds Metals Company, financed by the taxpayers' money, to give them exclusive right to 100 per cent of the stockpiling of untold millions of dollars of aluminum. And, these specially favored industrial proteges of the government shall have the right to make 40 per cent of all the government's needs in these metals for the next 25 years. Poor Jesse Jones regrets the innocent beginnings of government socialism, but Henry Kaiser gets the benefits for a long distant future. This scandal among scandals is hardly noticed because the corruption is so colossal, so incomprehensible.

In foreign affairs, we are trying to practice the Christian concept that we should rehabilitate and help even our enemies. However, it is not a Christian concept to take by force the property (the whole weaving or knitting industry for example) from one group at home and give it to another group abroad. The true Christian concept would encourage our army of occupation to take to Japan samples of our machines, inventions and discoveries, and demonstrate our methods to the Japanese. This might help them meet their own needs and supply others whose needs may be served in profitable exchange.

It doesn't make sense that a single individual in Washington should by operating a tariff bureau or a reciprocal trade agreement, or by prosecuting private citizens, or subsidizing them, or loaning money to them, or licensing them, or taxing them, or building houses and running post exchanges in competition with them, be privileged to hold in his hand the destiny of any single American industry. Such an individual may, for example, entertain the idea that the way to prevent war is to carry on trade between the nations at whatever the cost may be to American industry. He may forget that once we sent our machines, our capital, and our scrap iron abroad, only to have it used against us in murderous assault. Our trade did not stop war—it prepared our enemies for war. So it was with Germany, and so it may be with Russia. Our trade may even now, merely strengthen the hands of our enemies.

However there is something reassuring you can do. You can join with your neighbors to take political action at the election district level. You and your fellow-workers can make sure that men are chosen for office who favor the variety, the imagination, the amazing capacity of a free economy instead of a sterile corrupt, self-defeating government-managed economy. You may join other groups like yours which are being destroyed, threatened, and taxed to death. If you are willing to fight, even to save yourself, you can do it. By such a good example, you can encourage others in foreign countries to imitate you. Thus, foreign wars may cease, the individual may be saved and government may be cut down and liquidated to proper size and function.

Career Women Must Keep Femininity to Hold Respect

"I've worked hard, and I've wanted to be a man, and I did it in a full-time job in the business world, but always, LESS TIME WITH CHILDREN and with a kind of cruel. The career woman may insist, I have tried to keep a balance, but she turns them around, says a successful career woman to look after her children."

These words might serve as a guide for a father-child relationship, but for a career woman, it is a mother-child relationship. She doesn't want to be a mother, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a woman, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a career woman, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a mother, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a woman, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a career woman, but she has to be.

So the career woman gets to be a mother, and she has to be. She doesn't want to be a mother, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a woman, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a career woman, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a mother, but she has to be. She doesn't want to be a woman, but she has to be. Hollywood—If Nancy Kelly accepts the feminine lead in "Wrong Guy," they'll have the plot for another movie. She'll be making screen love to her ex-husband, Edmond O'Brien. Photographing both of them will be another one of Nancy's ex-husbands, Fred Jackman.

Elizabeth Taylor will get a concentrated buildup at M-G-M. The front office boys agree she's the studio's hottest boxoffice property. The reason Elizabeth and Bill Pawley temporarily called off their engagement: Young love and careers seldom mix.

Another rumor that Wanda Hendrix and Audie Murphy had separated. I talked to them in Cedar City, Utah, where they're working in "Sierra." Only comment was: "No further comment." But I'm not counting on it.

Harold Lloyd handed Junior his famous pair of horn-rimmed spectacles. Junior tried them on, smiled and handed them back.

"No, thanks," Junior said. "I'm not cashing in on the act."

Mama hugged him and grandma kissed him.

The whole Lloyd family was seeing Harold, Jr. off to be a movie star. He was headed for a Monroe, Mich., location and the starring role in "A Dog's Life," which, ironically, Junior has never led.

The plot of the film sounds like one of his dad's old pictures—Junior plays a young fellow who can't keep a job because of his passion for chasing fire trucks.

Junior is 18 and handsome and eager and has been chasing a film career ever since he can remember. He made his film debut just recently in Goldwyn's "With All My Love."

But "A Dog's Life" is the big break. Junior had quite a job getting a job in pictures. No one took him seriously. "All they'd say was, 'You're too big' or 'You're too small' or 'How's your father?'"

Junior kept trying. He worked in a commercial short and made $90. He directed a play at Beverly Hills high school and his mother came and she was surprised to see one of her fur coats walking across the stage. Junior had borrowed it for his leading lady.

Then came the big break and Junior joined John Barrymore, Jr., and Harry Carey, Jr., in footstep following. There's no business like show business to Hollywood's second generation.

Mae West has a film deal cooking to play the role of a Mississippi River gambling boat queen. . . . These rumors about the rifting of David O. Selznick and Jennifer Jones are getting stronger despite their denials. . . . Lynn Bari will try for a film comeback via a road tour of the play, "Light Up the Sky."

Why Lynn has trouble landing a film role is beyond me. . . . Edgar Bergen will give his studio radio audience an extra-half-hour show this year—he'll practice his TV routines for 'em.

WELCOME BACK
Shirley Temple goes to Santa Monica hospital next month to have her appendix yanked—the same hospital where she was born.

Esther Williams is doing 50 laps of her swimming pool daily—getting back into shape following motherhood. . . . Fact: The decline in film attendance by TV set owners, according to a Hollywood inspired survey, ranges from 13 to 84 per cent. Isn't it about time for Hollywood to use television to plug its films? Those Paramount trailers being shown on TV are so successful the studio has put them on a permanent schedule.

Kay Middleton, who played opposite Ethel Merman in "Annie Get Your Gun," is the likely candidate for the Pinza role in the road company of "South Pacific." Nelson Eddy turned it down with the explanation that he wouldn't follow Pinza.

Marjorie Main gets the glamor treatment for "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to Town" with fancy hairdo, lipstick, and eyeshadow. But after one take on a hot location set, Marjorie looked like the Main of old and was rushed to the makeup department for repairs.

But not before she had time to quip: "I'm just like Cinderella. One take and I look like a pumpkin again."

Hedy Lamarr is just about set to do a Broadway play for producer Alexander Ince. . . . The kids at Dick Haymes' radio show are giving him the bobby-sox treatment Sinatra used to get. . . . Margaret Whiting's first hillbilly record, "Slipping Around," has been banned by the networks. But it's a hit on the juke boxes.

The annual contract bridge teachers' convention conducted by Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia will be held at the Park Sheraton Hotel in New York City Oct. 18, 19 and 20. Teachers from all parts of the country will gather there for a course in the latest methods of teaching contract bridge.

Goren gave me today's lesson hand, which brings out the point that players who complain about guessing wrong could eliminate the guess by proper technique. We will probably never play an evening of bridge without hearing someone say, "If only I could guess them right!"—yet in the majority of cases the guesswork can be eliminated.

First, a word about the bidding. Over one spade North jumped to three spades, which is a stronger bid than four. A jump to four spades tells your partner that you cannot see any prospect of a slam, but you think there is a game in the hand. A jump to three spades tells your partner that you are sure there is a game, and you think there may be a slam. South did not bother to use the Blackwood convention. He made a direct bid of six spades.

In the play the opening lead of the three of hearts was won by declarer with the ten. Now if South could guess the diamond or club correctly, he would have no problem; but why not eliminate the guess? Take two rounds of trumps, cash the heart tricks, then cash the ace of clubs and lead the queen of clubs. It makes no difference whether you win it. A diamond return will give declarer a free diamond finesse, and any other return will give him a ruff and a discard.

Pre-Civil War Armory Sold at Auction—$14,000

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The old state armory building, erected here before the Civil war, has been sold at auction by the state for $14,000.

Mrs. Grace A. E. Murphy purchased it for conversion into a business establishment and several apartments.

The building was put up on a tract of land bought by the state from Margaret B. Lane of St. Louis in 1855 for $700. During the Civil war, the armory was used as state military headquarters and since 1912 as a storage place for state war records.

Q—Is the use of leaded gasoline in an auto likely to plug the carburetor jets?

A—No. Leaded gasoline does not plug the carburetor jets, although plugging may be caused by gum in the gasoline. Such gum may be present in gasoline that is improperly made or handled regardless of whether it contains lead.

Q—In what state can one find grapevines growing since the 16th century?

A—When Sir Walter Raleigh's first colonists landed in Raleigh, N. C., in 1587, they found succup-nong grapevines growing. Five of the ancient vines are still growing. They have trunks so large that a man's arms will not span them.

Q—What is the record deep-sea dive?

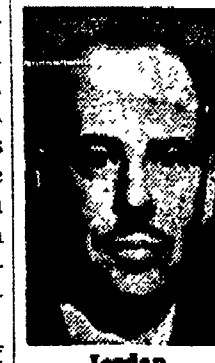

A—In August, 1949, Otis Barton, marine explorer, plunged 4500 feet into the Pacific Ocean in his "benthoscope," 27 miles off the California coast.

Q—How many states have been carved out of the original Oregon Territory?

A—When the Territory of Oregon was established in 1846 it embraced the present states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and parts of Montana and Wyoming.

Q—What is the oldest capital city in Europe?

A—Athens, Greece, is the oldest city in Europe serving as a capital.

Children's Bone and Teeth Aided by Vitamins A and D

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

People often think of vitamins A and D in the same breath probably because so many drug store preparations contain both. There are, however, many differences between them, both in chemical nature and in their effects on the human body.

Lack of enough vitamin A will cause eye difficulties. The first symptom of this eye disease is a kind of night blindness. Inability to see well in a dim light caused by deficiency of vitamin A is cured promptly by giving extra doses of this vitamin.

Vitamin A is also supposed to be helpful in the treatment of certain kinds of skin callouses but only when they are caused by a lack of this vitamin in the diet. Vitamin A is not considered to be helpful in the prevention of influenza, colds, or other infections.

VITAMIN D TREATS RICKETS

The term vitamin D is applied to at least two substances which are known to aid in the proper use by the body of calcium and phosphorus. Consequently, this vitamin is recognized as a specific method of treating certain conditions in which calcium is not properly used. These conditions are rickets, a kind of bone softening in children, infantile tetany and

Demagog With Privilege
The arrogance, the feeling on his part, in Congress and among the people themselves, whom he patronizes in the traditional manner of the demagog, that he is a ruler entitled to privilege without question is clearly evident in this exemption from accountability. It is plain again in the exemption from taxation. The same sense of mastery over the people is plain in Congress itself in passing a tax-exempt $2,500 expense allowance for themselves and larger allowances for the vice president and the speaker. The senators and representatives, a decent enough lot of Joes to the naked eye, have caught the fever. They pass revenue acts taxing the people, but they enact a bare-faced swipe and fraud for their own benefit. See what I mean? The whole national "government" now has a feeling of speciality and privilege over the people.

He bewails 'arrogance' of Eleanor, FDR, and President Harry S. Truman.

(COPYRIGHT, 1949, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.)

New York, Sept. 30.—I think President Truman's special privilege over the rest of us in the matter of his tax-exempt $50,000 raise will be worth the money in the long run as a dramatic proof of his personal selfishness and arrogance of our rulers. During the war, Eleanor the Great, perhaps by a slip of the typewriter, referred to her husband as the elected ruler of the United States and raised quite a commotion. She rode it out with that regal indifference which we have learned to expect from our rulers when they are caught in flagrancy and, if she did not really mean it then, she very well might say it again and this time get away with it unchallenged. The original intention was that our president should be the chief executive, the general manager, of a union of states. He was no tin god. There was no intention that the man elected to this office should be the "ruler" of the people.

This understanding of the Constitution has changed so much in the last fifty years, roughly one-third of the life of the United States, that we have practically revised the Constitution without putting the revision to debate or into words.

Royalty Began With T. D.
The, let us say, royal idea, although royal is not quite the right word, was first evinced by Theodore Roosevelt. He had a patronizing attitude toward the people and, through his daughter, Alice, will present my saying that, I think I detect traces of the same bearing in Alice herself.

At any rate, he and, ironically, our Democratic presidents have hob-nobbed with kings, dictators and other "chiefs of state" and this has given them notions. The change came imperceptibly and President Truman was "conditioned," as the jargonians would say, by the increasing airs and graces of Wilson and Roosevelt II. I was not a Republican but a slightly surly Democrat during the terms of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover so when I say I detected none of this conceit in them I am speaking as one who would have been alert to see it.

Roosevelt II and Eleanor the Great gave us the works. They were rulers and no kidding. He felt that he was the only man in the United States who was capable of performing the duties of the office for a period of sixteen years, which is a long reign even for kings. She really formed a habit of holding "reviews" of regimented orders of girls and women. In one instance, she kept the whole garison of the early WACS at Fort Des Moines standing in bitter cold on a wind-swept parade ground until her majesty could get there. She had absolutely no right to review them and any WAC who had stomped off shouting rebellion would have struck a blow for freedom even though she were drummed out in disgrace. The girls were almost up to it because they improvised a mutinous little parody on "The Old Gray Mare," closing with the line "Waiting for Eleanor." It was too bad they didn't just break ranks or, at least, boo her to make an issue of it.

Placed Personal Agents
Then, too, she planted a great many of her personal agents in government jobs, primarily to put money in their pockets at the taxpayers' expense, but also to do a little looking and listening. There are many such personal machines in our government. Cabinet secrets and Supreme Court decisions leak out which are supposed to be sacrosanct until they are revealed officially.

I was surprised that someone didn't clean up on the devaluation secret. I am not sure nobody did. When you analyze the facts of President Truman's tax-exempt raise you discover things about your own condition as a citizen that you never suspected. By the way, this actually is an increase in salary as the debates absolutely prove, but even if you insist that it is technically an expense allowance the fraud is just as raw and the imposition just as arrogant. After all, Truman has plenty of hired help to keep track of his expenses. He can hire more if he needs more. So there is nothing to the excuse that he is too busy. Other people who are just as busy have to pay their own clerks' and tax experts, but they have to prove they spent their drawing accounts and pay tax on any remainder.

Missing Woman Dead in the Eyes of Law
Los Angeles, Sept. 30.—(AP)—As far as superior court's concerned, Socialite Mimi Boomhower, missing since Aug. 18, is now dead.

Judge Newcomb Condee made the death ruling to clear the way for estate matters. Police have been unable to find a single clue as to the whereabouts of the 48-year-old widow since she disappeared from the Bel-Air mansion where she lived alone.

Senator Ellender's Wife Dies of Tumor
Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Allen J. Ellender, wife of the Louisiana senator, died today in a hospital. She was 54.

The senator's office reported death was caused by a brain tumor, discovered only after she had entered the hospital yesterday. She had complained of severe headaches for weeks.

Dixon Girl Olney Man's Bride There

Of interest in Dixon and vicinity is the following wedding.

At a simple but impressive ceremony on Thursday evening, September 1, Paul Montgomery Snively of Olney, Ill., took as his bride Marion Catherine Ackert, daughter of the H. L. Ackerts of Dixon. The vows in the double ring ceremony were exchanged at the Olney home of Dr. J. B. Farrel, retired minister of the Presbyterian church and a close friend of the groom's family.

The bride wore a street length dress of aqua taffeta and net with white accessories. Her corsage was red roses and white baby mums.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Otto Bass who wore a navy outfit. Pink and white carnations formed her corsage.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his cousin Edmund Snively of Olney.

Following the ceremony the wedding party was entertained at the home of Mrs. E. C. Snively. The wedding cake centering the attractive table was cut by the bride.

The new Mrs. Snively was wearing a suit of grey glen gerry plaid when the couple left for a wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

Taught Here

The bride is well known in Dixon and Lee county where she has taught school. The couple is residing near Olney where the groom is engaged in farming. Mrs. Snively is teaching at Silver Street school, Olney.

Peoria Called Clearing House For Prostitutes

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—State's Attorney Robert R. Canfield declared today that Peoria was the "central clearing house" for "minor league" prostitutes who he said have invaded Rockford and Winnebago county.
Canfield said in a statement that questioning of girls arrested in recent vice raids disclosed that Peoria was their operating headquarters.
Travel In Team
The state's attorney added that Peoria vice rings operated similarly to a "wrestling circuit" sending girls in "teams" from town to town.
He stated there had been a "hint of syndicate control" in the use of guards at a house operated by Andrew Calcione, 34, of Rockford, now serving 30 days in the county jail following his conviction on a vice charge.
Canfield said the girls picked up in raids in August were pleased with the "swank country club set-up" offered at two resorts recently raided near Rockford.
Change Of Scenery
"It was an enjoyable change of scenery for them after working downtown hotels here and in other cities," Canfield said they told him.
The state's attorney did not elaborate on what action might be planned to prevent prostitutes from other cities fromplying their trade in Rockford.

The jury at no time had given any indication of its sentiment, although it frequently called for transcripts of testimony.
Asked For Instructions
Many observers, thought late yesterday the jury was leaning toward acquittal. Only a few minutes before the verdict, the jurors asked amplification of Roche's instruction.
Judge Michael J. Roche told them not to single out a single instruction, or part of one, for guidance. He then suggested that they might like dinner and said he would await their decision whether they wished to continue work afterwards.
When they filed back in with coats on, it appeared they were enroute to dinner. Clerk James P. Welsh seemed astonished when the foreman handed him the verdict.
Iva, termed an "arch traitress" and a "female Benedict Arnold" by the prosecution, sat immobile as the separate verdicts were read.
Inscrutable, she listened as the judge thanked the jury: "No jury in all the years of my experience has exercised more patience."
There was a brief consultation of lawyers and the decision on the sentence date. Then Iva was led downstairs and back to the county jail.

merchants and industries was apparent. The efforts of the several committees who were assigned departments of the celebration also brought forth much commendation.
The success of the entire three day program has already brought forth requests to the Chamber of Commerce to make the event an annual one to be presented earlier in the season. The executive committee was today considering this suggestion and were considering plans for an even more elaborate affair next fall.
Every concession and ride on the Midway was liberally patronized and practically every foot of space was occupied. The task of dismantling the booths and clearing the debris from the Midway was launched early this morning and by noon it was expected that all of the parking space would be available to motorists.

Child Murderer Is Committed to Mental Hospital

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—Diana Allen, 13 year old slayer of a boy playmate, was ordered sent to a mental hospital yesterday after she was found insane by a circuit court jury.
Diana, who signed a statement that she drowned Charles Johnson, 7, to satisfy an "urge to kill," made an unsuccessful attempt to escape after the verdict. She broke away from a matron as she was being led across the street from the Will county courthouse to the county jail. She was caught by a deputy sheriff after a short chase down the street.
Diana struggled with the deputy, Roy Doerfler, and shouted: "Let me alone. Keep your dirty hands off me. I don't want to go back to jail." She had shown no emotion during her four-day trial.
The girl had been in jail for five months. She admitted drowning the Johnson boy in a drainage ditch on April 30.
Both state and defense lawyers recommended a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity. Three psychiatrists testified that Diana is a victim of schizophrenia (split personality).
Diana was admitted to the Illinois state hospital for the insane at nearby Elgin three hours after her commitment was ordered by Circuit Judge James V. Bartley.

in Reno or Las Vegas, Nev. A decree may be obtained after only six weeks residence in that state.
The paper says that preference for a Nevada decree are reportedly based on a desire of the couple for a minimum of publicity and the fact that general grounds of incompatibility are sufficient for divorce there.
The Tribune says the Stevensons were understood to be in agreement generally on all property settlement matters.
The negotiations toward divorce, the paper says, are a result of growing incompatibility of temperament and of Mrs. Stevenson's distaste for public life and publicity in connection with the governor's political career.
The governor's wife has had no interest, The Tribune says in public honors for herself and has steadfastly avoided, whenever possible, the publicity attending his official life.
Mrs. Stevenson is reported to have spent little time in Springfield and has preferred to remain at the estate near suburban Libertyville.
Mrs. Stevenson Modest
The Tribune says that close friends of the state's first family have remarked about Mrs. Stevenson's modesty as wife of the governor and her custom of taking an obscure place at social affairs. She frequently has left social events before they were concluded, the paper says.
Mrs. Stevenson was unavailable for comment on the report. A maid at the estate said last night that she was out of town and that it was not known when she would return.
The Stevensons were married Dec. 1, 1928 at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago. The governor is 48, Mrs. Stevenson 40. They have three sons, Adlai E. III, a student at Harvard university; Borden, now attending Choate school in Wallingford, Conn., and John Fell, now at Milton Academy, Milton, Mass.

Truman's Aides to Get Salary Boosts

Washington, Sept. 30—(AP)—President Truman's cabinet members can look forward with assurance today to a pay boost following senate approval of a bill to raise them from their present $15,000 a year to $22,500.
The senate action, taken on a 52 to 14 vote last night, sent the measure back to the house, which previously had voted the department heads a $25,000 salary. Both bills also call for pay increases for a long list of other high government officials.
With that $700,000 bill out of the way, the senate turned to a house-approved measure to raise the wages of 500,000 postal employees—including postmasters—by about $180,000,000 a year.

Young Woman Is Murdered By Companion

Paris, Ill., Sept. 30—(AP)—A 19-year-old Crescent, Okla., woman was shot to death and her male companion was critically wounded last night in what authorities said was a murder and attempted suicide.
The dead woman is Adela Mae Neale. The wounded man is E. A. Briscoe, 28, an oil worker. The couple came to Paris from Crescent about six weeks ago.
A coroner's jury which investigated the woman's death at a midnight inquest returned a verdict of "death from a gunshot wound inflicted with homicidal intent." The verdict did not name the slayer.
Sheriff Allen Crable said evidence indicated Briscoe shot the woman and then fired a shot into his own chest. His condition was described as critical.
Miss Neale and Briscoe shared an apartment here with the woman's mother and stepfather. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Crampton of Blackwell, Okla., it was testified at the inquest, Crampton also is an oil worker.
Crampton testified the couple had been drinking before the shooting. He said he left the apartment for a few minutes to pick up Mrs. Crampton. Returning, they found the couple shot and summoned authorities.
Briscoe was employed by the Seismograph Service Company of Tulsa, which is engaged in oil exploration in the Paris area. Crampton also is employed by the same company.

Coal Strike Violence Is On Increase

"learned authoritatively" that union leaders would appeal today or tomorrow to the anthracite diggers to return to the pits.
Anthracite Men Out
The anthracite miners quit work when the 400,000 soft coal diggers marched out Sept. 19 to protest suspension of their pension and welfare fund benefits. The anthracite fund was not affected.
Refusal of some southern operators to pay the 20-cent-a-ton royalties into the fund after the UMW contract ran out June 30 prompted Lewis and other trustees to cut off fund benefits.
Dynamite blasts wrecked two tipples at Grass Flats in Clearfield County, Pa., not far from Snow Shoe mountain, and near Morgantown, Ky. Nobody was injured in the blast.
Robely M. Smith, president of the Junedale Coal Company at Grass Flats, blamed the tipple blast on UMW pickets.
A 15-truck coal convoy descending Snow Shoe mountain in central Pennsylvania was struck by a fusillade of shots yesterday. The trucks were carrying non-union coal from the mines to tipples where the coal was to be cleaned, crushed and loaded on railroad cars.
State police officials said at least 14 shots, all apparently aimed at the truck tires, were fired at the police-guarded convoy. No one was hurt.
Bottles Thrown
Empty pop bottles and lumps of coal flew in Dover, O., as striking miners stopped five trucks loaded with coal. Two men were injured.
George M. Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company and chief spokesman of the northern and western operators, forecast a coal shortage within two or three weeks if the shutdown continues.
The walkout has idled 32,000 workers on coal hauling railroads.
A break-down of non-union miners on the job shows:
Virginia 4,000; Pennsylvania 1,350; Alabama 1,500; West Virginia 6,600; Iowa 1,000; Kentucky 200; Tennessee 150.

Good clean plowing of cornfields, using coulters, jointers and wires or trash shields, should destroy 98 to 99 percent of the corn borers.

Dixon Floats Enter Sterling Competition

Several of the floats which appeared in yesterday afternoon's record breaking parade in Dixon were driven to Sterling today where they appeared in parade this afternoon and competed for prizes.
Only slight alterations was necessary on many of the entries to make them eligible to enter the competition.
With 20,254 thoroughbreds racing for $54,436,063 in purses during 1948, the average potential earning per horse came to $2,689.

Negotiations Continue But Seem Hopeless

Picketing has started. Police guarded mills against possible violence.
Meantime, union and management stuck stubbornly to demands. No one hints at compromise. Both sides decline comment on everything.
Murray, United Steelworkers Union president, said glumly after another fruitless talk with U. S. Steel:
"I wouldn't even comment about hope at this time."
That's how bleak the picture is. The issue is a pension-insurance program. The union wants steel firms to adopt the formula set down by President Truman's fact-finding board. This is a 10-cent-an-hour contribution paid entirely by industry. The union says it's the minimum they'll take.
Big steel rejected the proposal. Instead it offered a pension-insurance plan toward which employees would have to contribute. The union turned it down.
One small firm—Portsmouth (Ohio) Steel Corporation—has given in to Murray. Unofficially it's the 14th largest steel producer in the nation. But it employs only 4,000 of the 500,000 unionists.
U.S. Steel, the industry's giant, hires 160,000. Any agreement with U.S. Steel would undoubtedly set a pattern for the rest of the steel-makers.
Industry spokesmen declined to say how long present steel supplies would last. But a long strike could wipe out reserves. Production in steel-using industry would be cut, perhaps curtailed entirely. Unemployment would be heavy.
Pickets circled Crucible Steel's Midland, Pa., plant where 7,000 quit work yesterday, 36 hours ahead of schedule.
Crucible called it "a full-fledged strike."

Furnaces Ban ed

Banking of mill furnaces, begun early this week, continued unabated. Republic, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin, Inland, Midland, Carnegie-Illinois, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, National Tube, Geneva—everywhere across the nation the steel mills are shutting down.
U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic had offered identical plans for settlement, but the union spurned them.
The firms had offered to put up four cents an hour if the employees paid two cents an hour into the insurance fund.
(The president's fact-finding board said the steel industry should pay for all insurance.)
On pensions, the companies offered to contribute six cents an hour but didn't say how the program would be set up. This would be organized later. Employees would have to contribute an unspecified sum.

tify the agents—regarding instructions Nelson gave Weinberg.
"The instructions were," it said, "that Weinberg should furnish Nelson with information concerning the atomic bomb project so that Nelson could, in turn, deliver it to the proper officials of the Soviet government."
"Nelson told Weinberg that all Communists engaged on the atomic bomb project should destroy their Communist party membership books, refrain from using liquor and use every precaution regarding their espionage activities."
Furthermore, the committee quoted testimony from James Sterling Murray, former security chief for the atomic project in the San Francisco area, that he and agents Harold Zindle and George Rathman watched a meeting in Weinberg's home at Berkeley, Calif., from the roof of the apartment next door.
Attended Meeting
He said Nelson and Bernadette Doyle came to the meeting. Also sitting around the dining room table, he said, were Giovanni Rossi, Lomanitz, David Bohm, Irving David Fox and Max Friedman. Murray put the date at Aug. 12, 1943.
The report noted that Weinberg has denied any acquaintance with Nelson and Bernadette Doyle or having had any such meeting in his home.
It said Weinberg also denied twice to the committee that he furnished any information regarding the atomic bomb to Nelson.
"This," it said, "is in direct contradiction to the testimony of Murray and other witnesses."
Nelson, the report said, helped infiltrate the radiation laboratory by organizing a Communist cell of five or six young physicists.
It said the committee has testimony that Lomanitz, until recently a professor at Fisk university, Nashville, Tenn., "was the principal Communist party organizer." It said committee records "reflect" that Bohm, now a physics professor at Princeton, "was also a member of this cell."

Truman Threatens to Keep Congress on the Job Until 'Fair Deal' Plans Get O. K

Kansas City, Sept. 30—(AP)—They included cabinet members, President Truman confronted Capitol Hill opponents today with a new threat to keep congress in session until it enacts his entire 'fair deal' program.

If that course fails, he said the Democrats "will win with that program" in 1950 and again in 1952.

In fighting words, he sounded the keynote for Democratic orators in next years congressional campaigns at a testimonial dinner for the party's national chairman, William M. Boyle, Jr.

The president, speaking last night at the end of a program in which a long list of talkers, including Vice President Barkley, preceded him also.

1. Promised to battle for measures to raise the country's income to $300,000,000,000 annually and establish "an income level in the country of $4,000 per family per year" which he said "is not a pipe dream."

2. Hinted that Barkley, a frequent caller on Mrs. Carleton Hadley of St. Louis, might be getting married soon.

3. Declared that the country needs a "real, honest free press" worse than anything in the world.

4. Said that in these critical days of an uneasy peace, "it is dangerous to try to go back" to the 1890 isolationist attitude and that the country must "catch up with the moral spirit that will match the material in which we live."

The chief executive declared that his party will battle on for enactment of its 1948 platform pledges.

"Now, I have told the congress and the leaders in congress that we are going to fight it out on that basis if it takes all summer and winter, and all next summer, he said.

Crowd of 9,000

Approximately 9,000 persons jammed into Kansas City's municipal auditorium to hear the talks. Nearly 3,000 of them paid $15 a plate at the dinner to honor Boyle.

They included cabinet members, other top-level Washington officials and governors from several states.

Truman came through with this comment on Barkley, who earlier addressed the celebrants as "tellow Missourians."

"We are glad . . . we are very glad that we have managed to get our distinguished vice president to visit a place in Missouri outside of St. Louis. The vice president is a grand man, and I am proud that he is my friend and counselor, and I am also exceedingly glad that he is about to become a citizen of Missouri."

Barkley's daughter, Mrs. Max O. Truitt, scoffed at the idea that Truman's remarks, or those of the vice president, had any serious significance insofar as marriage was concerned.

In his most caustic reference in months to newspaper opponents in the 1948 election, the president said:

Asks Free Press

We did quite a bit to strengthen the Democratic party last November. We proved that broken down reporters turned columnists, pollsters and misguided editors can't fool the people—at home or abroad.

"That is one of the best things that ever happened to these United States. It is a great step toward a real, honest, free press. And that is what we need worse than anything in the world in this country."

The president took the position that the party platform and his state of the union message pointed the way to a $300,000,000,000 income for the nation and $4,000 for the average family.

"Now it is within the range of practical possibilities if we continue at the rate of growth which we have had in the past," Mr. Truman said. "We can establish an income level of $4,000 per family per year. That is not a pipe dream. It can be done. But it can't happen by itself. And it can't happen if we have a lot of pull-backs at the helm of the government."

State Withholds School Aid Until Oglesby Behaves Self

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—Illinois' Superintendent of Public Instruction says he has ordered state and withheld from Oglesby schools until they are "conducted according to law."

Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent, said yesterday that his department is investigating a "very bad situation" at Oglesby.

The superintendent of Oglesby schools and four of the school boards' six members resigned Sept. 7 in protest against "mob violence" which they claimed forced the rehiring of a teacher.

The board had decided not to rehire a grade school teacher, Mrs. Helen Mecum, contending her teaching ability was not up to the city's standards. The AFL Teachers Federation picketed Oglesby's two grade schools for two days in early September as a protest of this decision, delaying the reopening of school one day.

At a later board meeting a crowd surged into the board room and demanded that Mrs. Mecum be rehired. The board hastily reversed itself and voted to rehire the teacher.

Nickell said he ordered LaSalle county schools superintendent Ray C. Holley to withhold the funds, which Holley said amount to about $2,500 a month.

Holley said the specific law violation is that the remaining two school board members are holding meetings and making decisions without a quorum being present.

Nickell said "It's up to Holley to settle the dispute." He emphasized that the state has no power to force county officials to close schools within its jurisdiction.

His only power over such matters, said Nickell is to revoke teachers' certificates for unprofessional conduct.

But he added that "mere picketing is not unprofessional—at least according to our attorneys."

State Payroll Publication Is Favored by IFL

Springfield Ill. Sept. 30—(AP)—The Illinois State Federation of Labor was on record today in favor of publication of state payroll lists.

Delegates to the IFL convention shouted their approval urging that the 1951 legislature enact a bill requiring the secretary of state to publish such lists to anyone requesting them.

In approving the resolution, the delegates yesterday overrode the resolutions committee which had recommended rejection. Lloyd Butterfield of Joliet, one of the delegates sponsoring the resolution, declared "this is not a government of secrets—we're entitled to know who is on the payroll."

Some delegates said several labor leaders were on the payroll under former Gov. Dwight Green and that it did not become public knowledge until newspapers reported it.

The convention also advocated an Illinois fair labor standards act providing for a 75 cent hourly minimum wage and basic 40 hour week.

Another approved resolution favored a 48 hour week and $2.50 minimum monthly salary for firemen and policemen.

Delegates also adopted resolutions protesting the recent Illinois Public Aid Commission, cut in general relief and changing a state law permitting selective bargaining between unions and governmental bodies.

The convention also adopted a resolution requesting congress to halt the foreign aid program and use the funds for paying more jobs in the United States.

A resolution concerning segregation in schools was referred to the IFL executive board for further study. The resolution recommended that Attorney General L. Elliott declare it the duty of the state school superintendent to determine when to withhold state school funds because of segregation.

National Gambling Set-Up Is Probed by Federal Jury

Kansas City, Sept. 30—(AP)—A federal grand jury was at work today on what an unidentified attorney described as a nation wide investigation of a gambling syndicate.

There was a parade of witnesses into the grand jury yesterday and another group of 20 was waiting in general relief and changing a state law permitting selective bargaining between unions and governmental bodies.

The Kansas City Star said an attorney for several of the witnesses reported he had deduced that the probe was aimed at a cess until Oct. 17.

Just after the jury returned 29 indictments this morning, Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan told the members:

"I have been informed you have been started upon some investigation that must be carried through. I understand that these investigations will take from seven to eight days to complete. Therefore I feel it is not advisable to dismiss this jury at this time."

The judge requested that the jury return to its deliberations today and tomorrow and then re-cess until Oct. 17.

Midwest Weather Moving to East

Chicago, Sept. 30—(AP)—Cooler weather moved from the midwest eastward into the northeastern and east central sections of the country today.

But temperatures were expected to move to normal marks over most of the midwest during the day. The mercury was below freezing in parts of Wisconsin and in the 30s in the upper Great Lakes region. Readings generally were in the 40s in the Ohio river valley.

Rain fell over most of the New England states and there were showers in the northern Appalachians. Florida and the Rocky Mountain states. Miami Fla. reported 1.35 inches of rain in six hours last night.

Authur Turns Mirror on Her Own Sex; Says They're Unkind

Life could be a lot more beautiful if women would stop their bickering and mutual tripping-up and just give one another more of a chance.

So says author Florence Howitt, who writes of woman's inhumanity to woman in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. "The melancholy fact" she writes "is that we are not as kind to one another as we could be. We cause one another a lot of mental anguish."

Of friendship, Miss Howitt charges her sex with "not seeming to bring to friendship the compassion and tolerance it must possess if it is to survive or have meaning." She says the reason is because women are so vulnerable, and hence can't give themselves wholeheartedly to friendship for fear of being hurt.

The author chides womanhood for "the great pleasure we derive from belittling one another," the "tacit understanding between women that as soon as a man enters the picture the rules of fair play are abandoned," and their extreme susceptibility to jealousy.

"Building mountains out of molehills is another little feminine talent that keeps the fair sex reaching for sleeping pills," she writes, "and how helpful are groups of women as a whole, to the newcomer trying to get a social foothold?"

As for the women bosses Miss Howitt says. "The plain fact is that women do not enjoy working for each other. . . . Women bosses say the girls, are too jealous of one another, lack a sense of fair play, enjoy exploiting their powers."

Let she be accused of nurturing a phobia against her own sex, the author states in her article. "I want to make it clear that I think women are wonderful. We're TONIGHT'S DIXON-STERLING game at Sterling is the 50th anniversary of football rivalry between those schools, unquestionably one of the longest and most hard-fought in Illinois prep football. Game time for the frosh-soph eleven is 6:30 p. m. with the varsity clash being for 8:15 p. m.

LOCAL FANS MAY call The Evening Telegraph for the frosh-soph final about 8 p. m., the varsity half-time score at about 9 p. m. and the final after 9:45 p. m. Do not expect the final before that time.

THE NORTH CENTRAL conference really blooms forth tonight with DeKalb moving to Hall township for a Northeast division match. The Barbs may catch the brunt of the Hall fury. The Redmen, tied by Princeton last week, will be in no mood for fooling. Also some inkling of what may have happened to the Hall eleven is now drifting in. Ron Kuffel, a halfback, was thumbed out in the second quarter for sparring with the Tigers, and LeRoy Grivetti, the Ladd express, saw only limited action because of injuries. The reports are, though, that the Princeton line play was terrific.

COACH AL LEWIS, who departed the Tigers for Niles, Mich., has guided Niles to its second win in 1949. They defeated South Haven, Mich. It was the first conference victory for Niles since 1945.

OTTAWA IN THE NORTHEAST goes outside the conference to entertain East Moline. In the Southwest division, the Princeton-Rock Falls clash has been postponed because of a polio scare at Rock Falls, but Rochelle meets Mendota. It would appear that the Trojans have too much scoring power for the Rockets. Geneseo, the other Southwest conference team, should trim Alleman of Rock Island in a conference clash.

THE DUKE FRESHMEN footballers, who played about three days as a unit, fell before the Sterling frosh in a skirmish at Sterling yesterday. Score: 14-7. The Sterling eleven scored with 11 seconds remaining to snatch the victory.

THIS AUTHOR, AFTER compiling the results of tonight's football proceedings around the area, is shoving off for a short vacation. We'll be back full of vim and vigor for the chores a week hence. What does a sports editor do on vacation? Witness sports events, of course! And that'll be our method of relaxation. Without having to take notes, write game stories into the wee hours to catch Saturday's early press time, it is a whole lot different.

BRYN GRIFFITH, the sports-writing city editor, has volunteered to help out in our absence. So has Herb Hames, our new staffer, a Chicagoan and a sports follower.

Clarify Illinois-Iowa Agreement on Ducks

Pact Covers Overlapping Shoot Season

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Illinois conservation officials said today the state's waterfowl hunting agreement with Iowa has given rise to some mistaken ideas. They especially want duck hunters to get these two things straight:

1. Illinois nimrods are not allowed to shoot on the Iowa side of the Mississippi river channel prior to Nov. 4 unless they first buy an Iowa non-resident hunting license.
2. The confusion on this score apparently has developed partly because the Iowa duck season opens Oct. 21, or 12 days before the Illinois season opens.
3. The same thing applies in reverse to Iowans for the period from Nov. 29, when the Iowa season closes, until the Illinois close on Dec. 13.

The reciprocal Illinois-Iowa waterfowl agreement covers only the overlap period between the duck seasons of the two states—that is, Nov. 4 to Nov. 29, inclusive. It merely provides that Illinois sportsmen can shoot on either side of the Mississippi channel. They cannot set foot in Iowa proper or on its islands. The pact affects Iowans the same way.

Brewers lost the first three games of the final playoffs at Indianapolis but topped the first two contests on their home field. Indianapolis disposed of Minneapolis, fourth place finishers in the regular season play, in the first playoff series. The Brewers, who finished in third place, gained the final playoffs by beating the pennant winning St. Paul Saints.

Fans Deluge A's Management With Criticism on Pitchers

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Mild Earl Mack of the Philadelphia A's is the latest to blow a fuse in the temper-popping heat of the pennant races.

Earle, 57-year-old son of venerable Connie is in a dither about a flood of wires and "fan mail" accusing the A's of "lying down" against the New York Yankees.

Telegrams and special deliveries poured into the visitors' clubhouse at Yankee stadium yesterday while rain washed out the ball game.

The A's lost the first two games of their final series with the Yankees. Mr. Mack had nominated Phil Marchildon, a sore-armed pitcher all summer, to work the last game. Much of the criticism was directed at that selection.

Son Earle opened the mail and tore each letter into small bits. He fumed and sputtered. His father was home in Philadelphia because of an upset stomach and Earle didn't want him to see them.

"Look at all these," he said pointing to the mail. "Why they even accuse us of lying down. We try to keep them from dad but I'm afraid he saw some. It's damned nasty—terrible stuff."

"This is a great game and it's a shame to accuse you of letting another club win a pennant. Some of them even say we're not trying because dad gave out a story one day picking the Yankees. Never before did we get anything like this."

As a result of "excessive criticism" Earle said he would switch from Marchildon to Dick Fowler for today's game. Marchildon "worked" against Boston, Sept. 2 when he was knocked out in a

He Got Him After A Sort of a Leap

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York — (AP) — Once during the Indiana-Notre Dame football game last week, an Indiana blocker managed to bring down Bob Tonnell, Notre Dame's 240 pound tackle, with a resounding crash. . . . It was such an unusual happening that when the Hoosiers huddled again Fullback Milan Sellers, a high school teammate of Tonnell, asked: "Who did that?" . . . There was a pause, then 185-pound, five-foot-nine Danny Thomas, Indiana's smallest spoke up: "I did, but I had to kinda leap at him."

Get Your Winners Here! Last Minute Selections for Weekend

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York Sept. 30.—(AP)—Trying to pick Saturday's football winners while still unable to say who will compete in the coming World Series.

Last week's record: 49 correct selections, 13 misses for an average of .790.

Notre Dame over Washington: Even if Washington built a coral of mountains they wouldn't be able to keep Emil (Old Folks) Sitko in check. Notre Dame.

Michigan over Stanford: Michigan has won 24 in a row. Stanford's sophomores probably will make this a rugged fray but the Wolverines appear a touchdown better. Michigan.

North Carolina over Georgia: That bruising battle North Carolina had last week with North Carolina State is exactly what Charlie Justice and his mates needed to pull this one out of the fire. North Carolina.

Tulane over Georgia Tech: Eddie Price, Tulane fullback, will simply love the middle of the Georgia Tech line. Tulane.

Cards Might Have Peddled The Pennant With Dickson; He Stops Them Five Times

By JOE REICHLER
Aboard St. Louis Special en Route to Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Battle-weary and disgruntled, Eddie Dyer absolutely refused to discuss Murry Dickson today, but it probably will be many, many months before the Cardinals skipper will stop dreaming of his former star pitcher.

"We've talked too much about Dickson all year," was Dyer's terse comment when asked to account for the righthander's amazing success over the Redbirds this season.

Dickson's motive is not revenge, as the hurler pointed out himself right after he had pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to a crushing 7-2 triumph over his former mates yesterday. In fact, Murray frankly stated he wanted to see the Cards win the pennant.

But that did not stop him from whipping the Birds five times this year, more than any other National league pitcher. Dickson might have been rooting for his ex-teammates, but his strong right arm did the only thing his honest heart would let him.

All of which explains his stunning six-hitter yesterday that uprooted the Cards from first place and dropped them half a game behind the blazing Brooklyn Dodgers.

"I hold no resentment against the St. Louis club for letting me go," the native of Tracy, Mo., said grimly. "They've always treated me well there. I have a lot of friends on the Cardinal team, but that doesn't stop me from trying to beat them every time I pitch against them."

While Dyer refused to talk about Dickson, some of his players did. "I was afraid this might happen," one of them said wearily. "Murry always is at his best in the stretch."

Dyer, on more than one occasion during this stirring race, openly declared his resentment at Dickson's departure. He was not consulted when Bob Hannegan, erstwhile owner of the Redbirds sold Dickson to the Pirates last January for a reported $125,000 and no players.

It was during spring training that Enos Slaughter, captain of the Cards, said to this writer: "I think we'll win the pennant, but it will be tougher without Dickson."

How little he realized what a prophet he was going to turn out to be.

Los Angeles, Sept. 30.—(AP)—John Kimbrough, the former Los Angeles Dons fullback who retired with a knee injury this year, has filed a claim for workman's compensation from the California Industrial Insurance commission.

Curly Lambeau Quits as Coach Of Green Bay

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau stepped down as head coach of the Green Bay Packers after 30 years at the post.

Lambeau said he would continue as vice-president and general manager of the Packer Corp., but was turning over all field work to his three assistants—Line Coach Tom Stidham, Backfield Coach Bob Snyder and Defense Coach Charley Brock.

The veteran coach, who founded the Packers and has coached the club since 1919, said he will devote his time to rebuilding the team and to the "manifold duties" connected with his position in the front office.

"Under this arrangement," Lambeau said, "I feel I can do the ball club more good."

"My one aim is to have a solid, spirited organization from the waterbury on up and to build the Packers into a championship club again and that is exactly what we intend to do under this new arrangement."

Kimbrough Files Claim for Hurts In Pro Football

Los Angeles, Sept. 30.—(AP)—John Kimbrough, the former Los Angeles Dons fullback who retired with a knee injury this year, has filed a claim for workman's compensation from the California Industrial Insurance commission.

If his claim goes through, Jarnin Jawn would be paid $30 a week and medical expenses. Deputy Commissioner Clail McCredie says. Attorneys in the case disclosed last night that it may open a new income source for pro griders permanently benched with injuries. Hearing was set for Nov. 9.

COL. WINN "WORSE."

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The condition of Col. Matt J. Winn, 88, impresario of the Kentucky Derby, who recently underwent two major operations, took a turn for the worse early today. Authorities at St. Joseph hospital said Col. Winn was "a little weaker."

Pirates Beat Redbirds; Bums Win Two

(By The Associated Press)
The Brooklyn Dodgers held the upper hand in the National league's pennant scrap today while the American league's scramble remained a dead heat between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees.

Brooklyn, pre-season favorite to cop the nation's bunting roared into the lead yesterday by mopping up the 1948 kingpin Boston Braves, 9-2 and 8-0, while the St. Louis Cardinals lost again to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2.

Grid Weekend At Champaign A Quiet One

Urbana-Champaign, Ill., Sept. 30.—Football weekends aren't what they used to be at the University of Illinois. Now the guests have no place to sleep.

"Until recent years the football week-ends was anticipated at Urbana with a mixture of pleasure and concern," Fred H. Turner, dean of students, observed today.

"Thousands of alumni and friends formerly would arrive on Friday—many coming by special train—and stay through Sunday. Provisions had to be made to house, feed, and entertain the guests. Most of this was a pleasant responsibility, but it also was an upsetting experience. Many potential study hours were lost, and Monday morning classes suffered."

Today few visitors arrive for a big game before Saturday morning, with the heaviest influx coming about noon. Most of them leave immediately after the game, and the community is not unusually crowded except for a few hours.

Dean Stafford points out that Homecoming, too, is a much tamer affair than in former years. Homecoming reunions once traditional in fraternities and sororities are almost a thing of the past. Instead many of the organized houses have sprung reunions, with time allotted for business meetings.

Why has the U. of I. football week-end come to be relatively quiet and well-ordered? One big reason is housing. Hotel rooms simply are not available to accommodate football crowds, and rooms in private homes, once available to weekend visitors, now are occupied by a large segment of the University's 19,000 enrollment—almost double that of pre-war years.

Springfield Club Sold to Cedar Rapids

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Adam Pratt, owner of the Cedar Rapids baseball club, today announced purchase of the Three-I baseball league franchise operated by Springfield, Ill., the last four years.

Pratt said he would ask Three-I directors for permission to move the franchise to Cedar Rapids. He did not disclose the amount paid for the franchise.

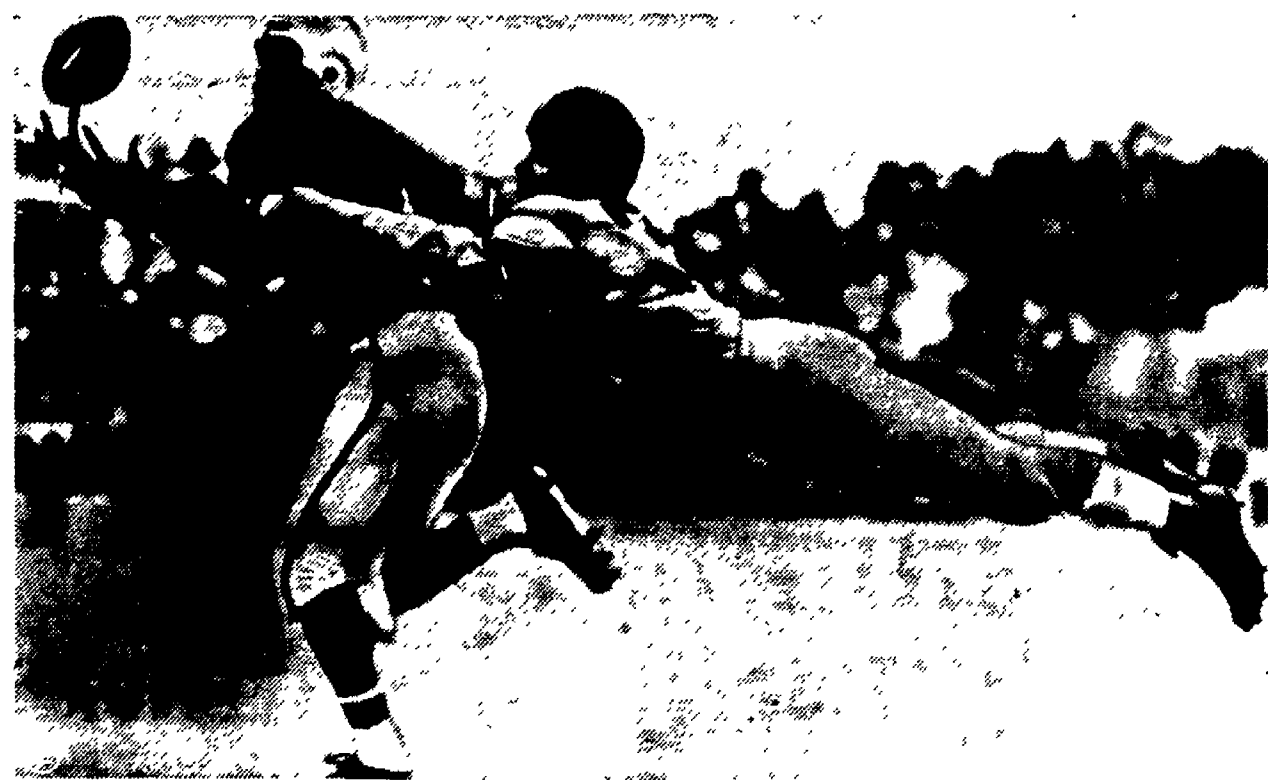

Pratt said he could not say whether he had polled Three-I directors to see if the franchise could be moved but he added:

"I didn't buy it for the purpose of operating a club in Springfield. I bought it to operate in Cedar Rapids."

National Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15.

CRACK AT CROWN—Home-grown Pat Valentino gets a shot at Ezzard Charles' National Boxing Association heavyweight championship at San Francisco's Cow Palace, Oct. 14.

OUT OF HAND—Missouri tackler, Mike Ghonuly, makes futile leap at Ohio State's Jimmy Clark, but the Buckeye halfback completed this touchdown pass in wild and woolly opener in Columbus. One misplaced kick for extra point meant the difference as Ohio State defeated Missouri, 35-34, before 66,510 fans.

Just Leave Town And Solve Tough Parking Problem

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The parking problem is becoming slightly terrific for University of North Carolina home football games.

So students and faculty members got together on a solution. They simply drive their cars out of town for the day.

Come Saturday morning when the Tar Heels are playing gridiron host, students and university folk drive their cars out to the airport, two miles from Chapel Hill, and ride in on free busses.

After the game, they bus it back to the Airport and pick up their cars.

Newcombe and Branca Dodgers' Pennant Hopes

Boston, Sept. 30.—(AP)—On the slender shoulders of Ralph Branca and the much brawnier ones of Don Newcombe ride the pitching hopes of the pennant seeking Brooklyn Dodgers who have a day off today.

Dodger Manager Burt Shotton, grinning from ear to ear over his boys taking over the National league lead after trumping Boston aces Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, promptly replied "Branca," when asked who would pitch against Philadelphia tomorrow. Shotton, who guided the Dodgers back into top position for the first time in more than six weeks, was almost as prompt in naming the husky, Negro rookie right-hander to pitch the season's finale Sunday.

If Newcombe does start Sunday in the final game of the regular season it will be the fifth time the big chucker with the snapping curve has been called on to pitch with only two days rest, and he's won on every other such occasion. Shotton deftly turned aside questioners seeking to have him single out any of his players for praise in the two victories gained here.

"Good pitching and good hitting and heads up baseball," he said, adding, "No I don't think any other club ever beat Spahn and Sain in one day. But he did and we can't have done it at a better time."

TOO TAME

Lewiston, Idaho.—(AP)—Gene Rambo makes his living aboard the rearing backs of horses and steers. He's one of the top professional cowboys in the country.

At Ellensburg, Wash., recently he "tried that game called golf" and suffered a wrenched knee. "Swung too hard, I guess," he remarked.

Rambo and a friend played just nine holes. "Everybody came up and passed us," he said. "We just quit and laid down and rested. We was plumb tuckered out."

STAGG IN 60TH YEAR

New York — Amos Alonzo Stagg, the man who was retired 17 years ago as "too old" to coach, is in his 60th season as a football coach this fall.

Stagg is advisory coach of Susquehanna, where his son, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., is head coach. Stagg was retired by the University of Chicago in 1932 when he reached the age of 70. From Chicago he went to the College of Pacific for 14 more years and is in his third year at Susquehanna.
